hello!

I'm Alisabeth Christian

As a Christian author and creator of Biblical based stories, I am passionate about sharing the love of God with all readers.

My desire to write stories began when I was a child and experienced firsthand the impact that storytelling had on my young heart and mind. Through my books, I hope to provide readers with a fun and engaging way to learn about God's love, grace, and mercy.

I believe that everyone deserves to have a special relationship with God, and my hope is that my books will help to bring you all closer to Him. Whether it's through stories of courage and faith or tales of courage and bravery, I strive to make each book a valuable tool for sharing the message of God's love.

In addition to writing, I am also a wife and a homeschooling mother of four. When I'm not daydreaming up new stories or passionately studying Scripture, I enjoy spending time with my family playing video and board games, watching butterflies flit about, and musing over the birds conversing in the woods.

Thank you for taking the time to learn a little bit more about me, and I hope that my stories and studies will be a blessing to you and the children you love!
